Boost your energy

Coconut oil contains 65% of medium-chain triglycerides (MCT)

- MCT helps to suppress hunger, keeping the feeling of fullness.
- MCT converts to ketones, which brain uses more efficiently than sugar or carbs.

Saturated fat in butter helps to slow down the absorption of caffeine, so it gives energy for several hours without a caffeine spike and crash.

12 g portion contains 31 mg of caffeine

Matcha is a source of Theanine, which is connected with positive memory effect.

Suitable for Ketogenic diet - without added sugar.
